

S11 Figure. Interviewer encounters with grief, anger, and demand for social service resources.

A) The topic of resources, grief, and anger are pertaining to the following three questions: How often did the people you interviewed ask you for resources or confide something concerning that compelled you to look for /share resources? How often did you encounter grief during calls? How often did you encounter anger during calls

B) Note: Interviewers could select more than one resource type in their responses.

